BATTLE WITH BLACKS

Severe Fighting Near the Town of Bulawayo.

MANY KILLED ON BOTH SIDES.

An Attempt Made to Prevent the Matabeles From Surrounding the Town, but It Proved Very Disastrous to the Attacking Party—Outside Communication Still Open, but May Be Cut Off at Any Time.

CAPE TOWN, April 27.—The Matabeles are displaying great boldness and energy and the pursuit of their purpose is to surround the town completely and cut off all communication with the outside world. Saturday it was found that the hostile forces of natives had surrounded the town on the northeast and west, their ranks being much too close to the town to allow of any freedom of action by those within. Their lines were being energetically extended in both directions and threatened to close in on the south and cut off communication with Mangwa and Mafeking, along which the expected reinforcements and supplies of provisions are coming. The pickets of the enemy were found to be in no case beyond four miles distant from the Bulawayo lines and they were giving lively evidence of their improved knowledge of military strategy over that displayed in the war of Lobengula by the way in which they were throwing up rude fortifications and earthwork protections, beyond which the native warriors could resist the charge of the whites. They threatened thus to work an approach to the town, which was speedily putting the place in jeopardy. Immediate steps were perceived to be necessary to dislodge the lines of the enemy and drive them back.

A column for attack was hastily formed consisting of 100 whites, 100 "Cape boys" and 100 natives. They were supplied with one Maxim and one Hotchkiss rapid fire guns and were placed in command of Captain McFarlane. They were speedily ready for an offensive movement and thus commanded and equipped they sallied forth from the Bulawayo defenses. They took a direction northeasterly from the town in the direction of the Unga river. They had proceeded only about five miles on this course, advancing cautiously with scouts in advance and out-riders on each side, when the enemy opened the attack. The Matabele force numbered not less than 3,000 and their attack was eager and well directed. The column from Bulawayo was just crossing a small stream, a tributary of the Unga, when the attack opened. The overwhelming odds, 10 to one, hurled upon the little column, drove it back by mere weight of numbers and the advance parties were glad to retreat in haste across the stream. This retrograde movement was, however, effected in good order and filing as they went, thus drawing the enemy across the river. The Matabeles advanced upon the little band of warriors in formidable array; their line extended in a crescent formation, the horns of the crescent advanced to the front, creeping and writhing like a treacherous serpent seeking to enclose its prey and surround it in its deadly coils.

The long straggling line extended over a distance of three miles with wide intervals between the men in line, except in the parts where they closed in expectation of a hand-to-hand conflict. Many came on, brandishing their assegais and shields and giving forth fierce yells in true savage fashion. As the howling savages closed in on the column they afforded an excellent target for the sweeping discharge of the rapid fire guns. The engagement which ensued was a hot and desperate one, and dark, leaping bodies seemed to spring up as fast as they were mowed down. The Bulawayo force kept the river in their immediate front. The firearms did heavy execution among the hostile natives as they rushed up to the opposite bank. This only partly checked their fierce onslaught and many gained the side on which the whites stood. These were charged by the troopers and cut down or driven back into the stream.

When the Matabeles in front were finally driven back they were seen to have sustained a heavy loss. The little river was dyed a dark crimson with the blood of the victims of the Maxim. One observer counted 40 dead lying in a small circuit close to the column.

The whites had been hotly engaged in front and when they succeeded in repulsing the attack there, they found more work still waiting for them. The advanced ends of the enemy's line had got under the flanks and they found squads of howling black men in their rear when they turned their attention in that direction. This came near proving a greater peril than the onslaught from the front, but it was luckily deferred until the first attack had been repulsed, and the forces of the Matabeles weakened there.

But for the open nature of the ground toward Bulawayo, the encircling tactics of the enemy would certainly have succeeded against the small force opposed to them. As it was, it was possible to perceive their movements and move accordingly, and the open ground gave free play for the Maxim, which was employed also in that direction with deadly effect.

The losses sustained by the whites were: H. G. Whitehouse, C. Gordon and B. Parsons killed and several wounded, the exact number not being stated. The rapid fire gun is thought to have saved the day for the whites beyond question. The loss they sustained, in view of the forces of the attacking party, and the fact that they were actually outflanked, is considered small, and the whites are considered lucky to have come off so well. They retired upon the conclusion of the fight, but they were in possession of the field when they did so.

Although the attacking party came off without any heavy losses they did not drive the Matabeles, but simply repulsed their attack. The hostile lines are practically as near to Bulawayo as ever, and it is certain that only a part of the Matabeles who are beleaguering Bulawayo were engaged in the fight. It is not clear that the sortie has been effectual in preventing the advance of the Matabeles to the south of Bulawayo, which is the outcome most feared.

The uneasiness here regarding the situation in the hard-pressed settlement is unabated and about the only agreeable factor is that telegraphic communication with Bulawayo is still open. The administrator there announces that the town still has provision for 20 days. The supplies on their way from Mafeking are expected to arrive before that period expires. But their arrival at all depends upon many contingencies. It is very much feared that the relief column may be attacked. If the supplies were not captured in such a case, they would certainly be delayed. The same thing would happen if the line of communication were cut and some point on it strongly held. The best speed the relief column can make without hostile obstruction will not bring it to Bulawayo until it is urgently needed.

The administrator in Bulawayo is doing all in his power to increase his stock and to provide against the contingency of delay of the relief from Mafeking. He has ordered that all passenger service be stopped in order to enable the coaches from the south to be used for bringing in the available supply of meal. It is said also that an arrangement has been made with a friendly chief for further supplies, and this, it is hoped, will tide over the needs of the community until they are better provided for.

An official dispatch forwarded here from Mafeking reports that up to the present time all is well with the relief column.

DYGERT GETS BACK.

He Tells Something About Life in a Cuban Prison.

HIS TWO MONTHS' EXPERIENCE.

He Had to Bribe a Guard to Let Our American Consul Know That He Was Imprisoned—The Whole Matter Will Be Laid Before the State Department at Washington.

TAMPA, Fla., April 27.—W. G. Dygert of Greenwood, Ill., arrived here yesterday afternoon from Cuba, where he has just been released from prison. He has been confined two months exactly. Dygert left Tampa Feb. 13, without getting a passport. He went into Havana on Feb. 23. He was arrested in the province of Havana and placed in prison at Guines. The only charge against him was that Spanish soldiers found an old Sharpe gun near the place where he was arrested. It was of very ancient make and no cartridges are now made to fit its very large caliber. He was given several so-called examinations.

Permission to write to friends or the United States consul was refused, but when he was searched the soldiers failed to discover several hundred dollars in money concealed on his person. Soon after his incarceration he bribed a guard to report his case to the American consul, paying $20, and $80 more to be paid on receipt of information that the case had been reported. On March 20 the guards handed him a piece of Spanish newspaper, from which he learned that the case had been reported.

March 28 Consul Williams notified him that his release had been requested. April 23 he was carried to Havana and taken before a judge at 9 o'clock at night and informed that if he would sign a paper written in Spanish he would be released. He found that nothing taken from him was to be returned, so he refused. Consul Williams came down about 10 o'clock and his release was effected. Dygert says that during the time he was in prison he was confined in a room 16 by 18 feet. Thirty-two other prisoners were in the same room.

The drinking water was awful and kept him sick a great deal of the time. Food was very scarce and of decided poor quality.

Dygert is a placer miner from Idaho and was simply out to see the south during the winter months when he could not work. After he arrived in this city he decided he would see something of tropics and concluded to go to Cuba and did not care to experience the delay necessary to get a passport. He will lay his case before the state department at once and ask that action be taken as soon as possible in damages against the Spanish government.

CYCLONE IN KANSAS.

Eight Persons Killed, Three Fatally Injured and Seventeen Injured.

TOPEKA, April 27.—Eight persons at least were killed outright, three fatally injured and 17 more or less injured, and great destruction of property was wrought by a cyclone which passed over Clay county Saturday night.

The dead are:

Frank Peterson, wife and daughter.

Eli Kalthazar and wife.

Julius Trembly.

Jesse Ham.

Mrs. Halbertson.

The injured are:

A daughter of Frank Peterson; can not live.

Frank Wilkinson; can not live.

Entire family of John Morris, badly mangled.

Six children of Eli Kalthazar, more or less injured.

There are rumors of other deaths south and west of Clifton, and it is feared that when communication with the stricken town is established, that the loss of life will be shown to have been great. The wires to many points are down and but meagre details are obtainable. The pecuniary loss west of Clifton at one point is estimated at $20,000, indicating that the total loss will be high.

Passengers on the Rock Island train from the north yesterday evening brought partial details of the cyclone. It started about six miles south of Clifton and went in a northeasterly direction for 12 or 15 miles; then lost its force by spreading. It passed about half way between Clifton and Morganville. Its track varied from 150 yards to a quarter of a mile in width. It tore through a farming community and left nothing standing. Houses and barns were wrecked, trees torn up or broken, fences leveled and hay stacks blown in every direction. The cyclone was followed by a terrific rainstorm which lasted several hours, flooding the devastated district.

The victims were in their houses and the most of them had retired. The storm struck Peter Anderson's house at 9:30 o'clock. This was about a mile from the starting point. The house was demolished in an instant. Every member of the Anderson family was injured. When they had extricated themselves from the debris they discovered that Anderson's grandchild was missing. The dead body of the child was found yesterday morning in a ravine half a mile away.

Couriers were sent to Clifton and Morganville for doctors, but it was daylight before they arrived, and the extent of the injury and damages were not known. It was noon before all the victims had been found.

A large number of cattle and horses were killed and fruit in the storm's track was ruined. It is impossible at this time to estimate the damage to buildings and other property.

Telegraphic communication between Topeka and Clifton was cut off from the hour of the storm until late last night. It is believed much damage was done in the vicinity of Palmer, Washington county, but the details can not be learned.

More Disastrous Than Reported.

KANSAS CITY, April 27.—A special from Concordia, Kan., says: Saturday's cyclone was far more disastrous than at first supposed. It is now certain that nine persons were killed outright and more than 20 injured, many of them fatally.

The little town of Palmer, east of Concordia, reports a number injured.

WINDING UP THEIR WORK.

Both the Senate and House Preparing For Adjournment.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The senate program for this week so far as determined upon includes only the consideration of appropriation bills, beginning with the naval bill and following that closely with either the river and harbor or the District of Columbia bill, probably the former. There may be spasmodic efforts to get up other measures, but the probabilities are that nothing else of any general importance will receive attention. Certainly nothing will be taken up which will lead to general debate if the committee on appropriations can control the order of business. It is expected there will be an effort on the part of Senator Gorman and other senators to amend the naval bill so as to provide for the construction of only two battleships instead of four, as the bill provides. There is also an element in the senate favorable to increasing the number to six. It is therefore expected that this bill will develop considerable debate.

The river and harbor bill will undoubtedly be made the subject of severe attack by Senator White and others who stand with him on the southern California deep water harbor question unless there is a change of the present decision of the committee which is in favor of Santa Monica.

A large majority of the senators, almost all of them in fact, now regard early adjournment as quite definitely determined upon. If the Democrats and Populists ever had any idea of attempting to prolong the session beyond the national conventions they appear to have given it up and few of them now fix the date beyond the 1st of June.

Senator George, who is the especial champion of the voluntary bankruptcy bill, says that he has received no encouragement in his efforts to get up that measure and that he has no hope of doing so.

Senator Mitchell of Oregon says that, contrary to reports, he is anxious to secure a vote upon the resolution to seat Mr. Dupont as senator from Delaware, and that he is willing to take the chances on the result.

Senator Peffer will not for the present press his bond resolution in antagonism to the appropriation bills.

The senators are taking the possibility of a veto of the river and harbor bill into account in their calculations on adjournment. Such a fate for the bill has been considered among the probabilities ever since its passage by the house, and recent expressions on the part of those near the president have increased the apprehensions of the friends of the bill on this score. Hence there will be an effort to so arrange the business of the session as to hold congress in session during the 10 days which he is allowed to consider a bill, in order to secure an opportunity for passing the bill over the president's objections in case of his disapproval.

House Program.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The house having disposed of all the appropriation bills will devote the remainder of the session, except such portions as are consumed by conference reports to clearing up such matters as opportunity affords. This week promises action on several measures. The Pickler general pension bill, which was under debate last week for three days, will be voted on early in the week if the clamor for more time for debate is not too importunate in which case the debate may be allowed to run on for several days. The measure will probably receive every Republican and quite a number of Democratic votes.

It has been agreed that the bill to empower the president to retire John M. Quackenbush as a commander in the navy shall be taken up on Tuesday. Commander Quackenbush was court-martialed and dismissed from the navy in 1874 on charges of excessive intoxication. He has now reached the age when, had he not been so dismissed, he would be retired.

The house has also agreed to take up the bankruptcy bill this week and devote three days to its consideration.

Should these three measures be disposed of before the end of the week, there are several contested election cases pending. Of course everything will have to give way if conference reports on appropriation bills are presented.

Man and Wife Perish Together.

NEWBURG, N. Y., April 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Cullen were burned to death at their home near Chester, Orange county, yesterday. They perished together in the sitting room, where Cullen had dragged his wife from their bed in his effort to save her. Morris Cullen, a son, fractured a leg in jumping from a second story window. George Thompson, an adopted son, sustained a bad scalp wound by being cut with glass when he was being dragged through an upper window.

AN INDIANA TRAGEDY

Alfred Egbert Kills Five Persons and Then Himself.

THE DEED OF AN INSANE MAN.

Residents of Rockville Startled by the Greatest Crime in Its History—The Victims: Mrs. Herman Haschke and Her Two Children, Sheriff W. D. Mull and William Sweet, His Deputy.

ROCKVILLE, Ind., April 27.—Alfred Egbert killed five persons, and, when pursued by a mob, shot and killed himself. He is supposed to have been insane. His victims are: Sheriff W. D. Mull, William Sweet, his deputy; Mrs. Herman Haschke, Aggie Haschke, her 10-year-old daughter, and Herman Haschke, her 8-year-old son.

Egbert was 21 years old and unmarried. He lived with his parents, just across the alley from Herman Haschke. Soon after 7 o'clock Saturday morning Egbert shouldered a double-barreled breechloading shotgun, and walked over to the Haschke home. A moment later a shot set the windows of the house rattling, and little Agnes Haschke fell dead in an inner room, pierced by shot. Her younger brother, Herman, ran out to the porch, and Morton Kent, who was passing the house, saw Egbert run out and shoot the little fellow down. Both children died instantly.

Egbert walked back into the alley, where Mrs. Haschke was milking a cow. He fired at her, but missed. She leaped up terror-stricken, and tried to flee, but before she had taken a dozen steps, Egbert overtook her. Swinging the gun above his head, he brought the stock down on her uncovered head. She reeled, and again he struck her. Blow on blow from the steel-shod butt of the weapon beat her to earth. Her skull cracked like an egg-shell under the cruel blows, and she fell, bathed in her own blood. She died two hours later.

Egbert turned from the horrid sight without a tremor, and slipping two more shells into the breach, brought the hammers to full cock, threw the weapon into the hollow of his arm and, covering the bloody stock with his hand, walked out into the street. He met Kent, who had witnessed the killing. Nodding to him, he wished him good-morning with a smile, and went leisurely up town.

Kent hurried to the jail and notified Sheriff Mull, who, with William Sweet, set out at once to arrest the murderer. Egbert saw them coming. He stopped in front of the National bank building and waited till they came within sound of his voice. "Don't come nearer," he cried; "I'll kill you." Sheriff Mull, who was unarmed, darted into a stairway, presumably to get a weapon. As he ascended the stairs Egbert shot him in the back, and as the corpse pitched down the stairs, turned and emptied the other barrel into Sweet, who stood on the sidewalk. Mull lived a few minutes and Sweet died instantly.

The scattered people in the public square looked on in terror and made no attempt to stop Egbert, who loaded his gun and sauntered to the northwestern part of the city to the fair grounds.

The alarm was soon given and a hundred men snatched up rifles, shotguns and pistols started in pursuit. Egbert heard them coming and began to run. The posse followed hot behind him and as soon as it caught sight of him began to fire. Egbert fled in safety until, while crossing an open field, a shot from Elijah Howell took effect in his heel. This crippled him, and though he managed to scale the inclosure on the fair grounds, he was unable to run further, and crawled into a box stall in the fair grounds.

The pursuers surrounded the grounds and closed in on the murderer's hiding place. As they drew near, a muffled report was heard, followed by the sound of a falling body. Rushing into the stall they found Egbert dead, with his clothing ablaze. He had placed the gun against his stomach, and sent a charge of No. 1 shot through his abdomen, ranging upward to his head, dying instantly.

In the same hour that Egbert breathed his last, the news was carried to his sister, Florence Egbert, who was sick in bed with typhoid fever. She became frantic and died immediately from the shock.

Egbert was at one time confined in the insane asylum, but had been discharged as cured. He had acted queerly the last winter. There is a story that he had insulted Mrs. Haschke, who threatened to inform her husband, and this is a possible explanation of his murderous mania.

Egbert was the youngest son of Julius Egbert. He had been known as a quiet, studious young man.

Egbert was a great reader and paid much attention to Shakespeare. He frequently said that if he got into trouble he would follow Brutus' example, and he did.

Sheriff Mull was a member of Commander Wallace's staff of the G. A. R., and was colonel of the One Hundred and Forty-eighth Indiana during the war, besides being in the Fourteenth and One Hundred and Fifteenth regiments. He was brave to a fault.

Sweet leaves a wife and six young children. He was a member of the Rockville light artillery.

Mrs. Haschke's husband is a baker, and was away at work in an Illinois town. He was telegraphed for and returned Saturday afternoon. Only one child of his family is left.

The coroner's inquest shows that the two children were shot nearly alike,

SENATOR CULLOM, a "favorite son" hailing from Illinois, has let his Republican friends know that he must have the solid delegation of his State to the National convention or he will quit the fight. Other "favorite sons," Bradley one of them, are more easily satisfied.

DURING March, England imported goods to the value of £38,000,000; exported £20,000,000, an "adverse balance of trade" amounting in one month to £18,000,000, or $90,000,000. And yet England holds her own, and doesn't find that free trade is injuring her commercially.

THE A. P. A. Council at Canton, O., has adopted resolutions "denouncing the use of their order by certain officials for personal ends in the attack on Governor McKinley. They pledge to oppose by all honorable means these officials." The "certain officials" of the order are no doubt making a good thing out of the fight against McKinley, and will continue to do so, regardless of the factions springing up in the order.

THE formal announcement of Colonel W. Lallue Thomas as a Democratic candidate for Congress appears elsewhere in this issue. Since the appearance of the the BULLETIN's article last week stating that he would probably enter the race, Colonel Thomas has received a great many letters from prominent men all over the district pledging him their support. If the Democrats of the district will unite on him as their leader in this fight, we believe the Ninth will be redeemed next November.

UNDER the rules adopted by the Committee on Permanent Organization of the last State Democratic convention, not only no member of any committee save that of the State Executive Committee, but also no delegate of a convention can vote by proxy. That is to say, if there is but one member of a county delegation present in the coming State convention, he cannot, even if he holds the proxies of all the other members, cast a single vote other than his own. In former conventions proxies were recognized and voted. Delegates to the coming State convention should make a note of this, and if they cannot attend in person should see that their alternates go in their stead. The rule will prevent the naming of a hundred or so delegates when a county is entitled to only a few votes.

T. M. RUSSELL, C. of R.

The old man who looks out at the world with clear and healthy eyes cannot help feeling great gratification at the thought that his children have inherited from him no weakness nor tendency to disease. The healthy old man is the man who has throughout his life kept his digestion good and his blood pure. Not one in a thousand does do it. Germs go through the healthy body without effect. Let them once find lodgment or let them find a weak spot, they will develop by the million and the blood will be full of them. Instead of giving strength to the tissue, it will force upon them humilitous matter, and the man will lose flesh and the more susceptible he is to disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the only medicine that absolutely and infallibly cures all blood diseases, and almost all diseases are blood diseases. It isn't a medicine for some one particular so-called disease. It is a medicine for the whole body. It forces out all the germs of disease, and replaces impurities with rich, red blood.

FRIDAY NIGHT'S CONCERT.

Praises From a Maysville Critic of the Singing and Playing.

Rarely has a Maysville audience had opportunity to enjoy so rich a musical treat as was offered at the opera house on the evening of the 24th.

In the first place too much praise can not be bestowed upon Miss Cake for her intelligent enterprise in originating and carrying out the plan and detail of the evening's entertainment. It is a work of not small magnitude and responsibility to "get up" such a concert, and Miss Cake's management places her in the first rank as an impressaria.

Mrs. Carrie B. Johnson, Miss Voight and Mr. Hahn are artists of the highest rank. Miss Voight as a vocalist gave evidence of rare talent, and cultivation in the highest degree. She has a voice of much power, and her execution of difficult passages in the difficult numbers which she had selected was altogether extraordinary. Her selections were from the highest order of classical music.

Mr. Hahn is truly master of the violin. His execution is brilliant and his delicacy of taste exquisite.

To speak in terms of deserved commendation of Mrs. Johnson requires more space than is fairly allowable here. She is gifted with rare personal attraction,—a truly graceful and beautiful woman! and her presence always attracts and impresses the audience. She is an artist by nature and by cultivation. Her technique is phenomenal. It is doubtless true that she learned the keys of the piano in very early childhood, probably by the time she could "chin" the key board. She has a delicacy of touch and brilliancy of execution rarely heard. Her beautiful hands become so intermingled with the white ivory that it is difficult to separate them. Her execution with the left hand is fully equal with that of the right. Her playing of the Spinning Chorus was like a shower of gold, and when she came to the waltz by Moszkowski the golden changed to a shower of diamonds.

Miss Cake as accompanist evinces rare taste and judgment and must have been a source of support and strength to the soloists, and therein consists the value of a good accompanist. Never was there assembled more appreciative audience, and a sigh of regret was almost audible when the evening feast closed. We sincerely hope that the concert was a success financially, a matter always of importance, too.

THE following party of gentlemen from Cincinnati passed through here Saturday on wheels on their way to Lexington: Louis N. Stix, Charles N. Stix, Samuel Fleishheimer, Louis Sawyer, M. Kohne, William Littleford, Louis Raun, M. Clusheimer and J. W. Fleishman.

THE marriage of Miss Julia Stevenson, daughter of the Vice President, to the Rev. Martin Hardin, of Kentucky, will take place at the New York avenue church, Washington, at 8 o'clock on the evening of May 23, and it will be followed by a reception at the Hotel Normandie.

FLEMINGSBURG Times-Democrat: "The Maysville BULLETIN suggests Hon. W. Lallue Thomas, of that city, as a candidate for Congress on the Democratic ticket this fall. He is a popular gentleman wherever known, a Democrat of long standing and if he should decide to enter the field would redeem the old Ninth from the Republican column. We hope he will decide to make the race."

THE colored bicycle thief caught here Thursday was taken to Lexington Saturday morning by Chief of Police Ort and turned over to the authorities of that city. The negro's right name is Burt Thomas instead of "Bud" Johnson. He was arraigned in the Police Court at Lexington, and held to the grand jury in $300 bail. The wheel he stole belonged to Janitor Dagley, of the Lexington Custom House. This is not his first offense.

MR. AND Mrs. W. N. STOCKTON and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Watson, chaperoned quite a lively party of cyclists on a fishing excursion Friday. They report a "fisherman's luck" and lots of fun, aside from an elegant lunch. Those on wheels were: Misses Netty Robinson, Fannie Frazee, Sallie Burgess and Belle Barkley, Messrs. Stanley Watson, Will Wells, Henry Wadsworth, Frank Barkley, Mr. and Mrs. Will Stockton and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Watson.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed in the Spring, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alternative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malaria poison. Headache, indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, yield to Electric Bitters. Only fifty cents per bottle at J. James Wood's drug store.

Boils

It is often difficult to convince people their blood is impure, until dreadful carbuncles, abscesses, boils, scrofula or salt rheum, are painful proof of the fact. It is wisdom now, or whenever there is any indication of blood, to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and prevent such eruptions and suffering.

Impure

"I had a dreadful carbuncle abscess, red, fiery, fierce and sore. The doctor attended me over seven weeks. When the abscess broke, the pains were terrible, and I thought I should not live through it. I heard and read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I decided to take it, and my husband, who was suffering with boils, took it also. It soon purified our

We Make a Strong Bid

For your business in these important items and are prepared to serve you to your entire satisfaction:

Ingrain Carpets.—All wool and a yard wide. The best extra supers, not an antiquated pattern among them. All clean, quiet, neutral tints that won't show dust and will turn well. A pick of these at 50 and 60 cents the yard.

New Tapestry Brussels.—The best ten-wire kind, of course; no better medium-priced carpet made. Have a number of hall and stair patterns among them. They have looks and wear in them; you all know the quality, now come in and get the price.

Rugs and Art Squares in several different weaves, various sizes and charming color combinations, with prices at the lowest notch. We are offering a neat Japan Rug, 18 by 36, for 35, and a pretty Smyrna Door Mat for 50.

Mattings.—All new goods, and a stock to choose from that would grace a town twice the size of ours. Linen Warp Mattings that "don't break," jointless mattings, cord-warp, plain, fancy and all good. They are made of live straw, are flexible and don't scuff out, like the poor, dried-out sorts. Matting makes a cool, cleanly, comfortable floor covering, and cheap, too, as we sell them at 10, 12½, 15 up to 37½.

A Lace Curtain Event.—That's what we name it; that's what it is—an event of money-saving importance to you. We have put our curtain stock on a narrow margin of profit, and we invite your judgment on the values we are giving at 1.00, 1.50 and 2.00

The Bemis Tobacco Setter.

The only successful transplanter on the market, and stood the test during the dry season of 1895, where its competitors failed. A practical machine that any farmer can use, simply constructed and will last a life-time if properly cared for. Makes its own season, gets tobacco out earlier, starts quicker and more uniformly than hand planting. Will make its price every year in a small crop. See what the largest grower in the State says about it. From Leslie Combs, Lexington, Ky.: This is to certify that I have used three different Tobacco Transplanting Machines upon my farm, and that I find the plants live so much better after the Fuller & Johnson "Bemis" I would buy no other. This opinion is formed from working all of these machines side by side through the entire season of 1895. Every machine fully warranted to do satisfactory work in the field or no sale. To secure one of these machines orders must be placed early. For sale by

Sunday Was the Seventy-Seventh Anniversary of the Institution of Their Order.

Sunday was the seventy-seventh anniversary of the founding of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in the United States. There are nearly 1,000,000 members of the order, and in thousands of instances lodges or individuals formally recognized the occasion. Many celebrations of the anniversary will occur to-day.

The order now owns more than 3,800 halls, used by it for lodge meetings and other purposes, their total value being more than $16,000,000.

It also owns 24 homes, asylums and orphanages, which, with the land, are valued at $1,000,000.

It publishes 49 papers and periodicals (43 in the United States) in half a dozen languages, and there are more than a dozen mutual aid, insurance and accident societies in the country to which Odd Fellows only are eligible.

Total revenues of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, United States of America, were $8,427,000 in 1895, and $3,323,000 was paid out in that year to relieve the sick and distressed, or to aid the widow and educate the orphan.

The total membership was 790,795, to which must be added 108,632 women members of the Rebekah Degree.

In 1838 the total relief paid was only $5,000.

The one lodge in 1819 has increased to nearly 11,000, and the 500 members of 1825 have within 70 years increased 1,800 times.

Many distinguished men have been or are now members of the order. Ex-Presidents Grant, Hayes, Garfield and Harrison, ex-Vice President Colfax, Senator John Sherman, the late Senator Oliver P. Morton, and Anson Jones, second President of the Republic of Texas, all received the degree of Odd-fellowship.

The Rebekah Degree, originally conferred only on women relatives of and on Oddfellows, is now open to women other than relatives. The ritual of this degree was written by Schuyler Colfax in 1851 and adopted by the Sovereign Grand Lodge. Its popularity may be inferred when it is known that it numbers 108,600 brethren (Oddfellows) and 93,810 sisters. In addition to the 900,000 members of the Independent Order of Oddfellows of the United States there are 26 orders of Oddfellows in Great Britain, with 1,100,000 members, and 107,000 colored Oddfellows in America.

No where else in the United States has this beneficent order a firmer hold than right here in Maysville, where it numbers among its members the best citizens of the city.

Dr. Whitsitt.

The Rev. Dr. W. H. Whitsitt, President of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, is in hot water. He wrote the sketch of Roger Williams in Johnson's Universal Encyclopedia, and said that Williams was sprinkled when baptized and not immersed, and that was the prevailing custom at the time. Out of this mole hill a mountain has been raised, and Dr. Whitsitt is to be investigated by the Board of Trustees of the seminary and may lose his good position. His statement is not denied, but the argument is that he should not be disseminating such anti-Baptist teaching.

He is strictly honorable in all his dealings and makes his word in all transactions the same as his bond and it is to be hoped he will soon engage in business here again."

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunterman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at J. James Wood's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.

Miss Phoebe Forman Entertained a Party of Her Lady Friends Thursday Afternoon.

Miss Phoebe Forman entertained, at her home in Washington, eighteen of her friends Thursday from 12 to 5.

At 2 o'clock dinner was announced, and the hostess led the way to the dining room. The table was elegantly laid and garnished with a profusion of flowers. Small flat glass crosses, half moon and stars, were placed very effective upon the table corners, filled with cut flowers. In the center an elaborate piece of resistance mingled artistically a profusion of American Beauty roses and white rose buds.

The fair hostess was unconscious of all except her guests and their individual comfort. No gentlemen were included. The ladies all wore elegant costumes. Those present were: Mrs. James Asbury, Fern Leaf; Miss Woodford, New York; Mrs. Geo. Parry, Washington; Mrs. T. Owens, Washington; Mrs. Richard Wood, Washington; Mrs. Robt. Downing, Washington; Mrs. Charles Hunter, Washington; Mrs. Arthur Wood, Washington; Mrs. L. # What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

Dr. G. C. Osgood,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

SCOTT JACKSON'S TRIAL.

More Links in the Chain of Circumstantial Evidence Forged.

CINCINNATI, April 27.—At the fifth day's trial of Scott Jackson for the murder of Pearl Bryan, 21 witnesses were examined. Some of the evidence produced was of no importance, while that of other witnesses was of a startling nature. The removal of the headless body from Fort Thomas to Newport was described by Undertaker Julius White, County Judge N. L. Bennett, having served five years in the army, testified as an expert on blood, and told of the amount he found on the spot where the body lay.

The next link in the chain of circumstances brought out by the prosecution was the introduction of a lock of hair which Mrs. A. S. Bryan said had been taken from her daughter Pearl's head about a year ago, and a photograph of the murdered girl. Mrs. Bryan was called to the stand for the third time that these two important articles could be introduced. They furnish the basis for all future comparisons.

William H. Newall, the first reporter that has been on the stand was interrogated regarding blood on the private bush leaves. He had one of the leaves and it was submitted as evidence. On the same lines, Private P. M. Weaver, told of his visit to the spot after the body was moved, and of finding a small bunch of blonde hair, and two imitation tortoise-shell hair pins. They were in or near the blood clots heretofore referred to, and Weaver's testimony seemed to establish beyond doubt that the head had been cut off where the body was found. W. S. Boyce of Brent told of seeing these articles, and of finding three knife cuts through the dead leaves and earth, and of finding where the blood had trickled under the leaves down to the foot of the slope.

The movements of Pearl and the two men between her arrival and disappearance was the subject upon which the next two witnesses were interrogated. W. D. Pinkard of Covington told of seeing them in College alley, back of the Atlantic Garden, on Friday. His identification of Jackson made even the prisoner smile, so deliberate was he. Mrs. Plymouth Weeks of Ninth street, Cincinnati, told of Pearl and Jackson coming to her for a sitting, and Druggist Fortmeyer of Bellevue described a visit all three paid his store on the morning of Thursday or Friday of the last week in January. Mrs. Katy Holmes and John Foster saw them on the same occasion.

Detective Witte told of the finding and search of the coat and vest taken from the sewer at Richmond and John, and of the loss of the leaves taken from the pockets. Detective Bulmer narrated the arrest of the prisoner. Night Chief Renkert undertook to tell of the statement made by Jackson to Colonel Deitsch the morning following his arrest, but, after a long argument, during which the witness and jury were sent from the room, the court refused to allow him to relate it. He identified the trousers as those he found in Welling's locker, and the small handbag as the one he recovered from Fred Albion's washstand at Lawrence's barbershop, where he worked.

Operator Skidmore and Watchman Kinney of the Grand Central depot told of Pearl and Welling being in the lower waiting room of the depot two hours on the fatal Friday afternoon. Saloonist Al Stegner testified the two men had been in his saloon almost nightly. Lieutenant Renkert was called to the stand a second time, and again he and the jury were excluded from the room while a point was argued.

The day closed with brief examination of Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Franklin as to seeing the hat of Pearl Bryan the day the body was found. They described the location as the same where Mary Morgan had already testified to having picked it up.

COURT JUSTICE TOO SLOW.

Two Men Taken From Jail and Hanged by a Mob.

NASHVILLE, April 27.—At midnight Saturday night a mob of armed men of about 15 entered the jail at McMinnville, dragged the jailer from his bed and forced him to give up the cell keys. William and Victor Hillis were then taken from the jail, carried on horseback five miles from McMinnville and both were hanged. Before the mob succeeded in removing their victims from the jail they had a hard fight with them but were overpowered.

The men came from Vanburen county where the lynched men lived. The prisoners murdered in 1894 in Vanburen county, Carroll Martin at his home, the purpose being robbery. Two trials in the lower courts and one in the supreme court have been held and the cases were set for trial next week again. The prisoners have been held in the jail at McMinnville for safe keeping and no attempt at lynching expected.

GENERAL ARBITRATION PROPOSED.

A Way by Which the Venezuelan Question Can Be Settled.

CHICAGO, April 27.—The Times-Herald's Washington special says: Lord Salisbury now has before him for his consideration an informal proposition from President Cleveland of a treaty of general arbitration of all matters in dispute between the United States and Great Britain, and of all disputes between either of these powers and any other power, in which the good offices of the other government have been tendered.

The meaning of this is that the president has offered to the British premier a general scheme of arbitration designed to embrace the Venezuelan question, but without reference thereto by name thus affording a method in which Lord Salisbury may easily reach a settlement of that vexing dispute without too directly humbling his pride. To this proposal, made some time ago, after a series of fruitless negotiations along other lines, no reply has yet been received.

CINCINNATI TOBACCO MARKET.

Offerings Not Large and Demand Not Strong Enough to Increase Prices.

The Cincinnati Leaf Tobacco Warehouse Company, in its circular for the week, has the following:

The tobacco trade seems to have settled down into a regular channel, and continues to keep about one position, with the exception of usual fluctuations. The offerings are not large for this season of the year, but the demand is not sufficient to increase prices, only as a certain grade may be wanted, and, with a day or two competition and the requirements filled, it falls back into the same channel.

There has been more demand the past week for color lugs, and they may be quoted some stronger, while the dark undescripts remain about the same. The better grades of color lugs are scarce, and, the demand being firm, we expect them to remain firm. There is a small amount of good leaf offered, and, while prices are satisfactory to most of the sellers, it is a good indication that the predictions of the growers in the early part of the season are correct. There is some inquiry for a few hogheads of fine old red fillers, as there has been very few offerings.

The warm weather is telling on the new tobacco, prized in winter case and several hogheads opened commence to grow soft, and will have to be handled at once to save them, and we would call attention of our shippers who have winter case tobacco in the market to look after it at once. The manufacturers are not very busy, and several are running about one-half the time, which accounts for the careless bidding, and unless the manufacturing branch of the trade improves, we cannot expect the leaf trade to do any better than it is doing at present.

The reports from plants are favorable, and with a favorable season we expect a fair crop will be set, and we sincerely hope the growers will be fortunate in housing a good crop this year. We think less acreage and better attention will be beneficial to the grower.

There is a large quantity of old tobacco in the market, and the holders should be selling and not let it go through the sweat again, as it is liable to injure the second sweat, after it has remained sweet through the first year.

The market closed full up to any previous day of the week, and we can expect a fair market the coming week.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be recommended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

VALUABLE

HOTEL
